

SOCIALIST ATTACK IS IGNORED BY ROOT

No Proof of Cabled Protests to Russian Government.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Elliott Root, who has been chosen to head the proposed American commission to Russia, maintained silence yesterday in the face of adverse criticism which his selection has aroused among Socialists here and the warnings that his presence might defeat the aims of the commission.

Mr. Root said he had read the address of Prof. Alexander Petrunkevitch of Yale at the Economic Club dinner here Tuesday night, in which the professor urged his audience to bring pressure to bear on President Wilson to appoint men on the commission who would be acceptable to the Social Democrats, now in power in Russia, but on the address Mr. Root declined to comment.

The rest of the commission has not been selected by the Administration in Washington, so far as known, and it was said that Mr. Root himself was not being consulted in the designation of others.

Violations Hinted.
The question whether any Socialists here have violated a Federal law by sending to Russia reports or allegations tending to discredit Mr. Root in the eyes of Social Democrats and thus "defeat the measures of the Government of the United States," in the words of section 5 of the criminal code, was much discussed yesterday, but no Socialists or others could be found who would admit that they had sent such messages.

They did not conceal their hostility toward Mr. Root, and several Socialists intimated that the only reason they had not sent messages to Russian newspapers condemning him as an enemy of Socialism was because "it would be a waste of cable tolls," because he was already too well known to the Russian Socialists.

Editors of radical Socialist papers here freely admitted that they had been attacking Mr. Root since his designation as the head of the commission to Russia, and that copies of their papers were being mailed to Russia regularly.

The principal basis of the attacks on him has been the case of the Russian radicals, Rudovitch and Poren, who fled to this country while Mr. Root was Secretary of State. The Russian government sought to have them returned, and Mr. Root is being attacked on the ground that he favored their extradition.

Root Favored Aliens.
As a matter of fact, according to the reports of the Rudovitch and Poren cases published when the two men were fighting extradition in 1909, Mr. Root, who was then Secretary of State under President Roosevelt, passed final judgment on whether they should be returned to Russia, and determined that neither should be extradited.

Previous to making this decision both of them were subjected to prolonged trials before United States commissioners, Jan Poren in New York, and Christian Rudovitch in Chicago, and during these trials they should be returned to Russia, and Government officials were occasionally criticized severely by radicals here for not releasing the men forthwith.

Secretary Root said that he wished to have all of the evidence as to the character of the men's alleged offenses before him, and that his final decision. He reopened Poren's case after the first commissioner who heard it had decided that Poren should be sent back to Russia, and after a petition against extradition bearing thousands of signatures had been sent to Washington.

After the second hearing, at which new evidence was introduced, Secretary Root decided that Poren's offenses in Russia had been of a political nature—he had taken part in a revolution—and decided not to extradite him. Mr. Root made the same decision in the case of Rudovitch and liberated him.

JAPANESE PRAISE FOR ROOT
Dr. Iyenaga Says His Services Are Needed by Russia.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Dr. T. Iyenaga, unofficial spokesman of the Japanese government in America, in an address before the Jovian League of New York, at Stewart's restaurant yesterday, said that the selection of Elliott Root as head of the American commission to Russia, Dr. Iyenaga said that conditions in Russia were not reassuring for the allies, and that a speedy ending of the war would depend largely upon the steps taken to put Russia on her feet again and prevent a separate peace with Germany.

"It would be unchivalrous to Russia, our ally, to say anything at this time of a discouraging nature," said Dr. Iyenaga. "But, confidentially, I believe the situation is far from reassuring, and it needs the most tactful handling that can be gained by sending an American commission headed by a statesman of such tried ability as Elliott Root."

Dr. Iyenaga reiterated that unless the United States abolished all measures discriminating against the Japanese, he saw little hope of a durable peace between the two nations.

UPHOLD CHOICE OF ROOT
Government Officials Sure Envoy Will Be Acceptable.

Socialists' objections to Elliott Root as head of the new United States mission to Russia were held by Government leaders to be groundless today. From one official in the Government, directly concerned with the fate of the mission, the statement was: "We have reason to believe he will be acceptable."

Whether any Socialist or more radical man than Root will be named to the mission, however, was not revealed.

SUNDAY AID FINED AS SPEEDER
NEW YORK, May 3.—The fact that he is one of Billy Sunday's secretaries saved Arthur Paulson, of 55 Hanson place, Brooklyn, from a jail sentence for speeding when he was taken before Magistrate House in traffic court. But he had to pay a fine of $75 because, according to a motorcycle policeman, he was caught driving twenty-eight miles an hour last Sunday. It was said to be Mr. Paulson's second offense.

FINDS NO LIBEL

Jury Gives Verdict to Defendants in $25,000 Action.

A verdict in favor of the defendants was given last evening by a jury before Justice Siddons in Circuit Court No. 2, in the case of Seth A. Terry against James M. Chadsey and George F. Curtis for the recovery of $25,000 damages on account of an alleged libel contained in a paper filed by Mr. Chadsey in the District Supreme Court. The plaintiff claimed that the caveat which was filed by Mr. Chadsey certain charges were made against him which were libelous, and that the charges not being pertinent to the proceedings, a cause of action had accrued to him.

In the defense it was claimed that the article complained of was substantially true, and, further, that it was privileged because of being filed in a judicial proceeding.

The defendant, Chadsey, took the stand and insisted that he had not been actuated by any malice against Mr. Terry.

The plaintiff was represented by Attorneys Millan & Smith, while Attorneys Wilton J. Lambert and R. H. Yeatman appeared for Mr. Chadsey, and George F. Curtis conducted the case for himself in his own defense.

URGES HOSPITAL FOR ALL CRIMINALS IN U. S.

Psychopathic Laboratory Alone Can Cause Decrease in Evil.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 3.—Urging the establishment of a psychopathic laboratory and hospital as the only means of scientifically attacking the crime problem, Dr. William A. Healy, the leading authority on juvenile delinquency in the United States, addressed a public meeting recently in Chabot Hall.

Dr. Healy said: "Today the most glaring expenditure of public money without regard to efficiency or the results achieved is in the sum of two to four million dollars that is being spent every day in the United States for the correction and elimination of crime—and crime is steadily on the increase. The unbusinesslike methods which characterize our handling of criminals is not due to the fault of individuals, but to the system, or rather lack of system, which we follow."

"Our courts consider all criminals alike, failing to grasp the fact that each case is that of an individual and should be given individual consideration. The courts do not discriminate enough about the human material which they handle."

"The reason why we are particularly interested in juvenile cases is that the present situation there is such that no good was being accomplished and the seeking for better methods was the result of an attempt to introduce businesslike methods in the courts. The court situation there was such that no good was being accomplished and the seeking for better methods was the result of an attempt to introduce businesslike methods in the courts."

"The first work in the scientific study of juvenile delinquents was done in Chicago about eight years ago. The court situation there was such that no good was being accomplished and the seeking for better methods was the result of an attempt to introduce businesslike methods in the courts."

SOLONS ATTACK GOUGERS
Score Alleged Short Measure Sales of Seeds.

Debate in the Senate over the food situation is believed by many Senators to point to drastic legislation. In particular, it is predicted that it points to legislation to stop speculation in foodstuffs.

The debate which broke out yesterday was started by an attack on short-measure seed houses which, in some cases, are alleged to be defrauding the public. Senator Smoot led off in this and a general discussion of the food question was stirred.

It points to highly interesting debate on this subject when food legislation comes formally before the Senate.

LONDON AMERICANS ENROLL
Hundreds Register for Military and Other War Service.

LONDON, May 3.—The eagerness of Americans in London to do their bit in the war has crystallized in the registration of two classes of them—one of those fit for active service and the other of men over military age, but offering to serve in other than a military capacity. It was said at the embassy today that the rush of would-be fighters had been particularly great, and that men were being enrolled by the hundreds.

Americans already at the front in Canadian or other British regiments continue to write to the embassy asking to be transferred to regiments fighting under the Stars and Stripes. It was said that the decision has been made to represent directly on the firing line it will be impossible to make a formal request to the British war office for the release of these men. It is known that their immediate commanders will be sorry to lose them, but it is not believed that if representations were made officially on their behalf, serious obstacles would be placed in the way of these Americans attaining their hearts' desire.

DROWNED WHILE FISHING
Police Seek to Recover Body of Earl Davis.

Heartbroken, Mrs. Henry S. Davis is waiting anxiously at her home, 705 Fifth street southeast, today for the police to recover the body of her son, Earl Davis, twenty-two years old, who was drowned while fishing in a rowboat near Chain Bridge yesterday evening.

Lieut. Russell Dean and the crew of the harbor police boat are dragging the river in the vicinity of where the young man was drowned. The river runs deep in that vicinity, and the police are experiencing difficulty.

Earl's two companions—John H. Todd, of 1367 Pennsylvania avenue northeast, and George C. Martin, of 830 D street southeast—narrowly escaped going down.

The young men threw their anchor out at the stern, and the current carried it down so rapidly that it swamped the rear end of the boat.

Todd is a good swimmer, and succeeded in making shore. Martin succeeded in keeping himself above the surface until a motorboat sped to the scene and picked him up.

RED CROSS RECEIVES $130,000 IN A MONTH

Twelve Thousand of Amount Paid to Equip D. C. Corps.

At the conclusion of one month, the campaign for the District Red Cross war service fund, which was started April 3, has resulted in the subscription of more than $130,000, of which $80,000 has been paid in cash.

According to a statement issued today by H. B. F. Macfarland, chairman of the District financial committee, this is considered only a beginning, as only 800 people have subscribed.

The fact that several ambulance corps are to be sent to France at once, and the possibility that the corps being organized by Dr. Ryan Devereux will be sent soon, have increased interest in the fund. Twelve thousand dollars have been appropriated by the Red Cross for the District ambulance corps with which to buy ambulances and equipment.

An order was placed yesterday for 400,000 Red Cross seals for Christmas sales. This is 65,000,000 more than were ordered last year. This is one of the most productive sources of income of the Red Cross, the sales from these seals since 1908 having aggregated more than $4,000,000.

Additions to Fund.

TO OFFER PANAMA AID
Republic Will Raise Army of 5,000 to Protect Canal.

Dr. Eusebio Morales, secretary of state of Panama, and Dr. Julio Arjona, assistant secretary of government, who, with Dr. Bellario Porras, former President of the republic, and now Panama minister to Washington, comprise Panama's war mission to the United States, will call on Secretary of State Lansing tomorrow to tender the co-operation of Panama to the United States in the war.

The Panama Congress recently passed resolutions, unanimously, declaring that the republic would co-operate with this country in the war against Germany. At the same time a law was passed giving authority to the President of Panama to appoint a mission to the United States to make arrangements with the State Department for the construction of railroads and highways throughout Panama with a view to increasing the national defense facilities of the republic, which have been placed at the disposal of the United States for the protection of the Panama canal.

In addition to these negotiations the Panamanian mission has been authorized to offer to the United States an army of 5,000 men, to be used in protecting the canal. The Panama government has notified the State Department that an army of 30,000 can be raised for this purpose if needed.

It is probable that the State Department and the War Department will accept the offer of 5,000 troops, and these will be armed and equipped by the United States.

Dr. Morales was minister to the United States from Panama until his appointment to the cabinet. He was the first diplomat to advocate the Pan-American doctrine, delivering an address to the subject two years ago at the National Defense League convention in Washington.

GIRL PUPIL PROVES FACT STOREHOUSE

Surprises Dr. Van Schaick With Information on Historical Topics.

There is one proud youngster in the public schools today. She is little Miss Lillian Selby, aged thirteen, a student in the seventh grade of the Congress Heights School. Her teacher is Miss C. M. P. Brandt, who is likewise proud of her pupil.

The Rev. Dr. John Van Schaick, Jr., president of the Board of Education, in a recent address before the children's Welfare Association at the school decided that as a return to former days when the chairman of the school committee called, he would, instead of speaking, ask the pupils questions to find out how they were progressing.

He began as follows: "Will the little girl in the front row, fourth from the end, get up?"

After much pushing and shoving of one another to get them to respond, little Lillian Selby was pushed to her feet by vigorous hands on both sides.

"Did you see General Joffre?" "Yes, sir." "What is his correct title?" "Marshal Joffre." "Why did we close schools so that you could see him?" "Because he is the head of all the French armies."

Dr. Van Schaick was getting surprised at these quick, intelligent answers, and the excitement was at fever heat all through the audience.

At the unusual exhibition, they seemed to think that the reputation of the school was at stake, and teachers, parents, and pupils acted as if their champion had gone into the lists.

"What other distinguished citizens of France have ever come to this country?" "Genet and Lafayette."

Dr. Van Schaick swallowed once or twice over Genet, and dug back into his brain to keep up with the procession.

"Under whose administration did Genet first come over here?" "That of President Washington."

"Under whose administration did Lafayette come over here?" "That of President Washington."

"What grade are you in?" suddenly demanded Dr. Van Schaick, "and what is the name of your teacher?" "I am in the seventh grade and my teacher is Miss Brandt."

At that the whole company burst into applause, which continued some minutes, and the examination was at an end. Dr. Van Schaick remarking: "I do not know whether I have a hold of an unusually bright pupil, but I do know that you stand 100 per cent."

"No," said the little girl, "I am not the best one in the class." At that the cheering was renewed.

HAMILTON SCHOOL OPENED
Will Provide Instruction for White Tubercular Children.

The Hamilton School on Bladensburg road was opened yesterday by Superintendent of Schools Thurston as a school for white tubercular pupils, about a score of whom were excluded from regular classes several months ago.

The Hamilton School is surrounded by a large plot of ground, on which it is planned to hold outdoor classes as often as weather permits.

Miss L. H. Wright, formerly a teacher at the Hayes School, has been assigned as teacher.

One of the rooms in the school will be used as a rest room, another as a class room, the third as a combination kitchen and dining room and the other as a playroom.

SEN. CLARK'S INJURY SLIGHT.
NEW YORK, May 3.—William A. Clark, former Senator from Montana, who, on Monday, had a fall, was not seriously hurt, it was said last night at his home, 982 Fifth avenue. Some alarm had been felt because of Mr. Clark's age—seventy-eight years.

This Man Is Growing Bald

Parisian Sage Just the Thing for Such Cases. Local Druggists Offer Liberal Three Days' Test.

If you are rapidly losing your hair and fear baldness, O'Donnell's Drug Store invites you to make a three days' test of Parisian Sage at their risk. If it does not stop the excessive loss of hair and make your hair and scalp look and feel at least 100 per cent better, they will return your money. Parisian Sage has been called one of the most wonderful hair and scalp treatments ever produced, and certainly the results it is giving right in this vicinity are truly remarkable. Hundreds of men and women have written, telling of the good results obtained by its use. People who were getting bald say they now glory in their beautiful hair. Others who have had dandruff for years say they got a clean, healthy scalp after just a few applications of this splendid treatment.

No matter whether you are bothered with falling hair, prematurely gray hair, dry, dull and brittle hair, dandruff, itching scalp, this well known local druggist wants you to try Parisian Sage. If it succeeds the hair is trifling, and should it fail the cost is nothing. No strings or red tape to this money-back offer. If your hair is worth saving Parisian Sage is well worth trying, and a large bottle is inexpensive at drug and bait counters everywhere.—Adv.
